The One and Only

By Wick Dutilh

Has anyone heard of this special guest who is coming along this week? He's said to be the creator of all of this, the original ancestral father of this event - Pieter Dupon. I've heard stories about this old Erasmian teacher who introduced EEYP to our schools and I've only spoken to him once when he asked me if the school has just as baffling parties has it had back then. Henceforth I'll be going to talk to him and write more afterwards.

Now, after having spoken with him for more than half an hour, the only thing I can do is to acknowledge that the legends about this man are true. His expertise on this subject is so immense. About everything that has happened in the field of the EEYP this man was present and you should say meet him to say thanks - because without him you wouldn't be sitting there - and to hear his marvellous stories.

Smth. about the opening

I suppose it's safe to say that the European union is having some minor problems here and there but that okay because otherwise there wouldn't be an EEYP. But it would be nice if the amount of problems will decrease so that the amount of stress will lower with it.

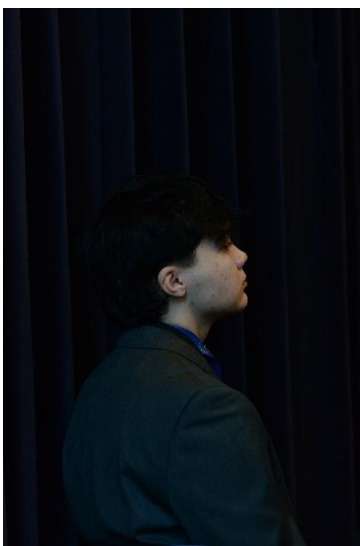

You don't have to be a rocket scientist to notice during the speeches of the main opening that one of the main problems within the EU itself are the right-populist parties. And when this came to a discussion with Repasi afterwards the solutions weren't coming around.

It is hard to tackle populists in their way because of the main rights of speech but wouldn't it be nice? It would make the problem solving so much easier.

The Only Solution

The European Union is struggling with a lot of different things at the moment, climate change, China getting ahead of us in a lot of ways, Trump wanting to invade Greenland, Russia attacking Ukraine, thousands of immigrants coming to the European Union and the EU becoming less and less relevant in the current market. This is why I asked two members European parlement itself, how we can fix these things. Rene Repasi and Jeanette Baljeu both gave me the same answer: "A more united European Union, together is the only way we will be able to defeat all of these threads." Then the next question is: How? How do we unite Europe into one strong nation, without taking away the sovereignty of the individual member states? This problem will I let you guys find an answer to.

I'm tired

By Wick Dutilh

As we all know: everybody could already use some sleep. Even though it's just the second day. So here is a fun fact about having a shortage on sleep because you're in a school program from 7 in the morning to 10 in the afternoon

Did you now that by sleeping less you're hormone regulation will work less well making you're stress hormone (cortisol) decrease less leading to poor decision-making, slower reaction time and getting irritated much faster.
